1.2 Network Services and Their Distributors Publication Information

1SYNC member data sources can choose to:

- A. Publish to a market group called "Network Services and Distributors" in Item Management, which includes the GLN for Network Services (the company) along with GLN's for all participating GDSN distributors in the Network Services network.

Note: If additional distributors are added Network Services, the data source will need to publish again (publication add transaction, not the function of Republish) to the Network Services market group.

- B. Create their own market group within the 1SYNC Item Management system which should include the Network Services (the company) GLN of 0816006000001 and the GLN's for each of the Network Services distributors that the data source wants to specifically synchronize with. For information on creating market groups in the 1SYNC Item Management system, please see the IM Online User's Guide located on the 1SYNC solution center under the Implementation tab > Item Loading and Maintenance > IM User Interface.

Note: If additional distributors are added by Network Services as time goes on, and the data source wants to synchronize their data with those distributors, the data source will need to add those distributors to their market group and publish again (publication add transaction, and not the function of Republish) to that market group.

- C. Publish to individual distributor GLN's. Refer to list above in section 1.1.

Non-1SYNC data sources should publish to each individual Network Services distributor's GLN that they want to synchronize their data with, along with Network Services, if they wish.

Network Services GDSN data pool is 1SYNC
